
AI Original Intelligence Assessment Prompts

Choose 1-5 prompts for your Original Intelligence Assessment

1. What are some creative ways to communicate with someone who understands speech but only communicates by pointing?
2. Your brother promised to pick you up at the airport but didn't, and so you had to spend $200 on a rideshare. How do you get him to pay you back without having an argument?
3. What are some creative ways to assist people with memory impairments remember important tasks?
4. Bill and Susan are long-term romantic partners and Bill said something that has upset Susan. Bill feels bad and would like to fix the situation. What should Bill do?
5. What are some ways you could make a beautiful outdoor space for yourself if you have only a tiny area outside your apartment and you can't grow grass or plant a garden?
6. Design a 20-minute morning routine that helps someone who wants to start their day in a better mindset.
7. What are some ways to do teambuilding on video conferencing, with each person only needing a piece of paper and a rubber band?
8. Devise a pitch to sell eating broccoli to children.
9. Your bank account balance usually goes up every month, but you realize that for the last several months it has gone slightly down. You find your account has not been hacked or compromised; you know your salary and expenses haven't changed significantly. What are the different directions you would explore to figure out the issue?

10. You are on a deserted island. A box washes up on shore and when you open it, you find an electric blender. What are original and useful things that you might create or develop from this blender?
11. You have worked as a middle level manager at a company for 2 years and your boss is treating you extremely unfairly and being disrespectful. What are some creative ways to ensure your boss changes their behavior, while still keeping your job?
12. Create a new feature for a car that would help keep drivers and pedestrians safe.
13. Create a unique character that might star in a book or a movie - focus on the character description and role of the character.
14. You just met a talking cow. What are the three questions you would want to ask it?
15. Your dog keeps escaping from your fenced-in yard. Devise an invention or device to keep your dog (and other people's dogs) from getting out of their yards.
16. Your elderly relative is having trouble walking upstairs at their house. They are terrified of anything mechanical or electronic, so they do not want any type of chair lift. What might you try to cobble together to reduce the chance of them falling or slipping?
17. How would you describe the color green to someone who has never seen color before?
18. You are in a work meeting and there is one person who is dominating the conversation and not listening well to others. What original strategies could you use to address this problem?
19. What are original ways that you could try to hold onto a good mood that you would also recommend to others?
20. Write some original personal mottos (each should be about 5-10 words).
21. Create a new sport that requires only using one finger from one hand.
22. You made a mistake in placing an order and you end with 200 non-refundable boxes of Q-Tips (i.e., small stick with soft cotton swabs at each end). What are original ways to use them?
23. Create interesting prompt questions that you think would test original thinking in humans.
24. If you could have a superpower, what would it be and why?
25. Describe in detail some creative ways the world would be different if people had three arms.